Dedication

Kaufman High School is an important contributor toward the improvement and advancement of Kaufman ---- indeed of the world itself. A School is only a building without students. The students make the school, the character, and the progress. This book is dedicated to all students who have learned or will learn, who have been given and will give, who have matured and profited in Kaufman High School ---- to the alumni of our school.

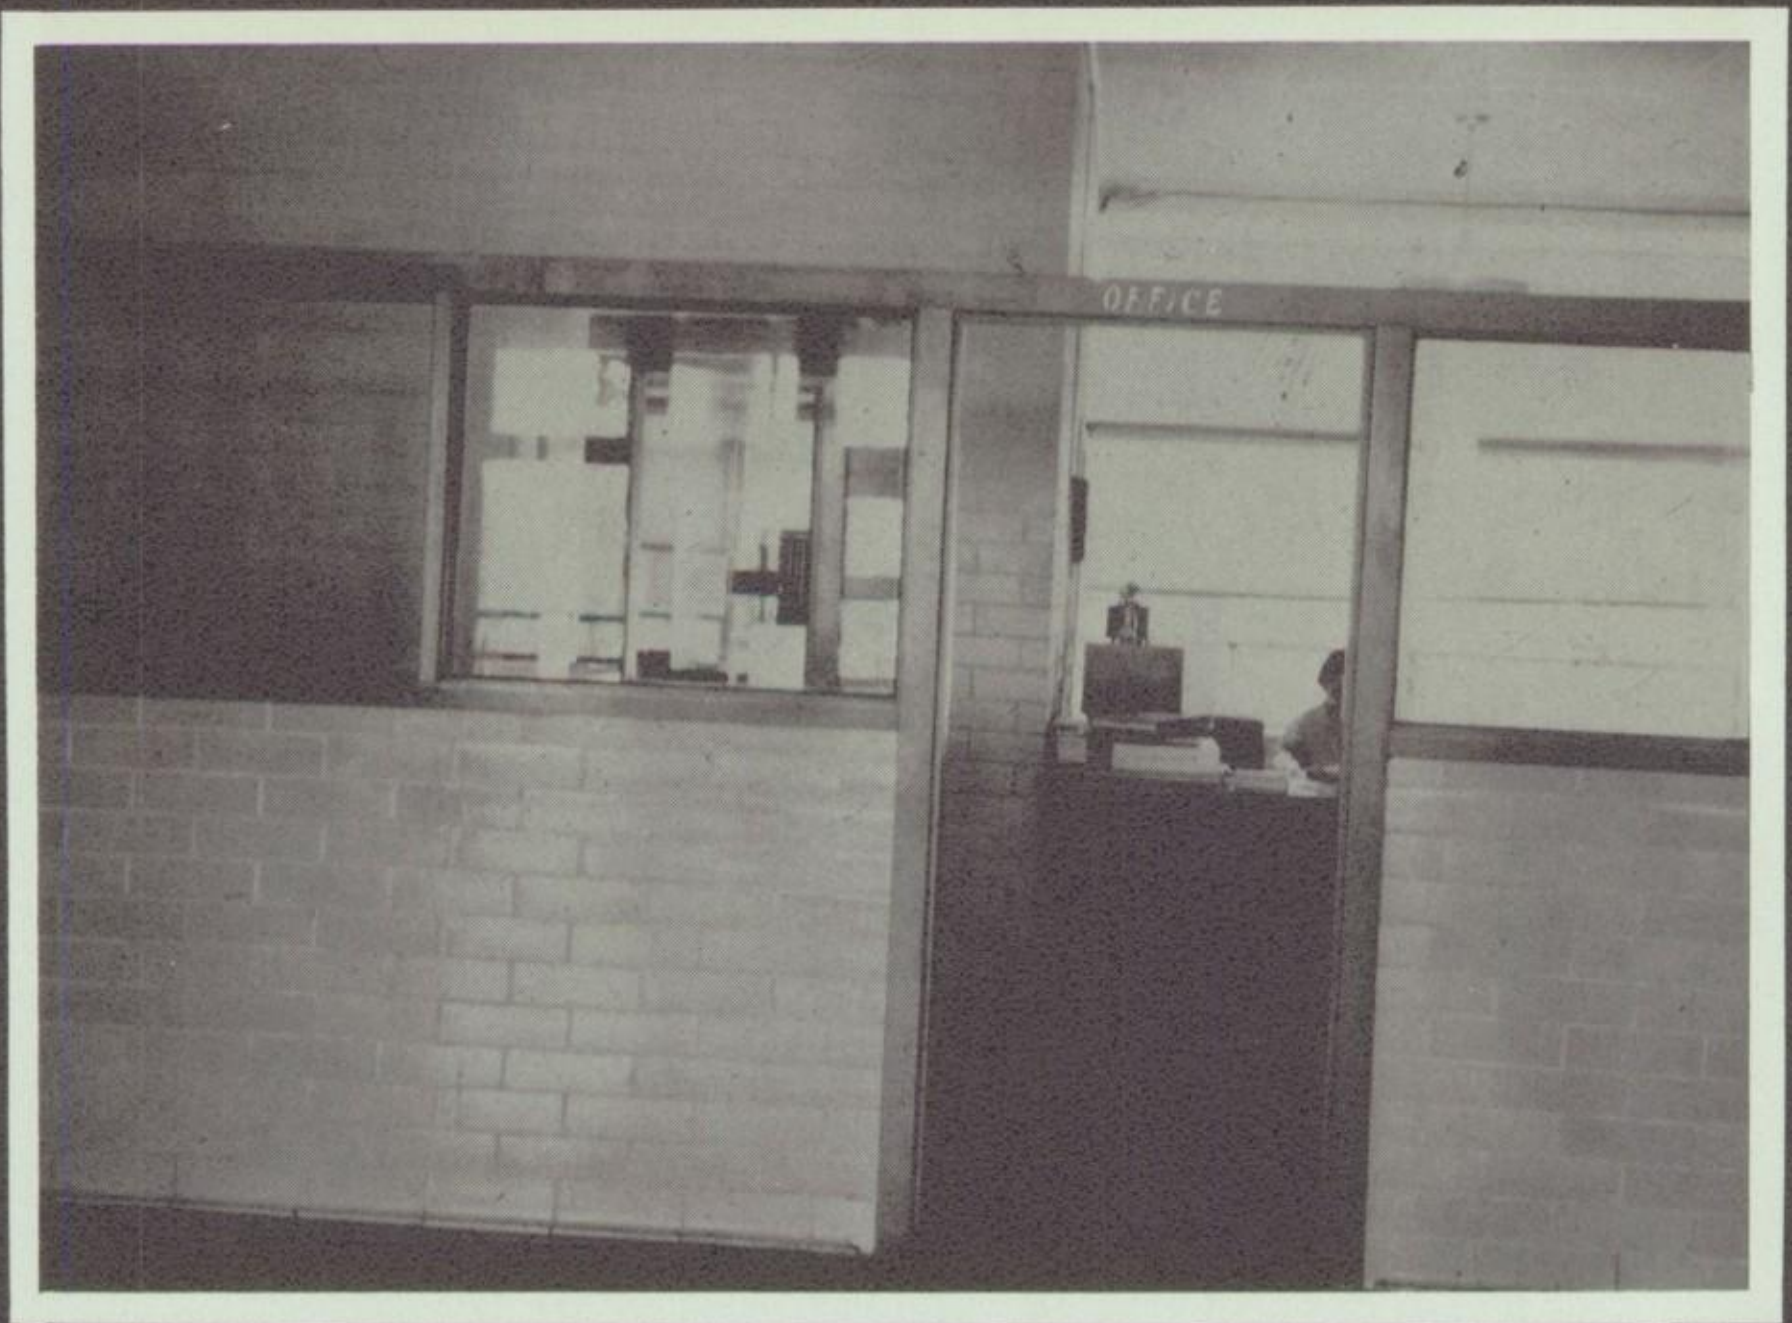

Foreword

The students at Kaufman High School spend six hours a day, five days a week in this building. Dances, class parties, and banquets consume extra time here. There are many activities---many emotions in this school. This book is a record of the events and the emotions of the people who walk in these halls. We invite you to relive the moments of this past year. And so, These Are the Halls...

Administration

Dear Students:

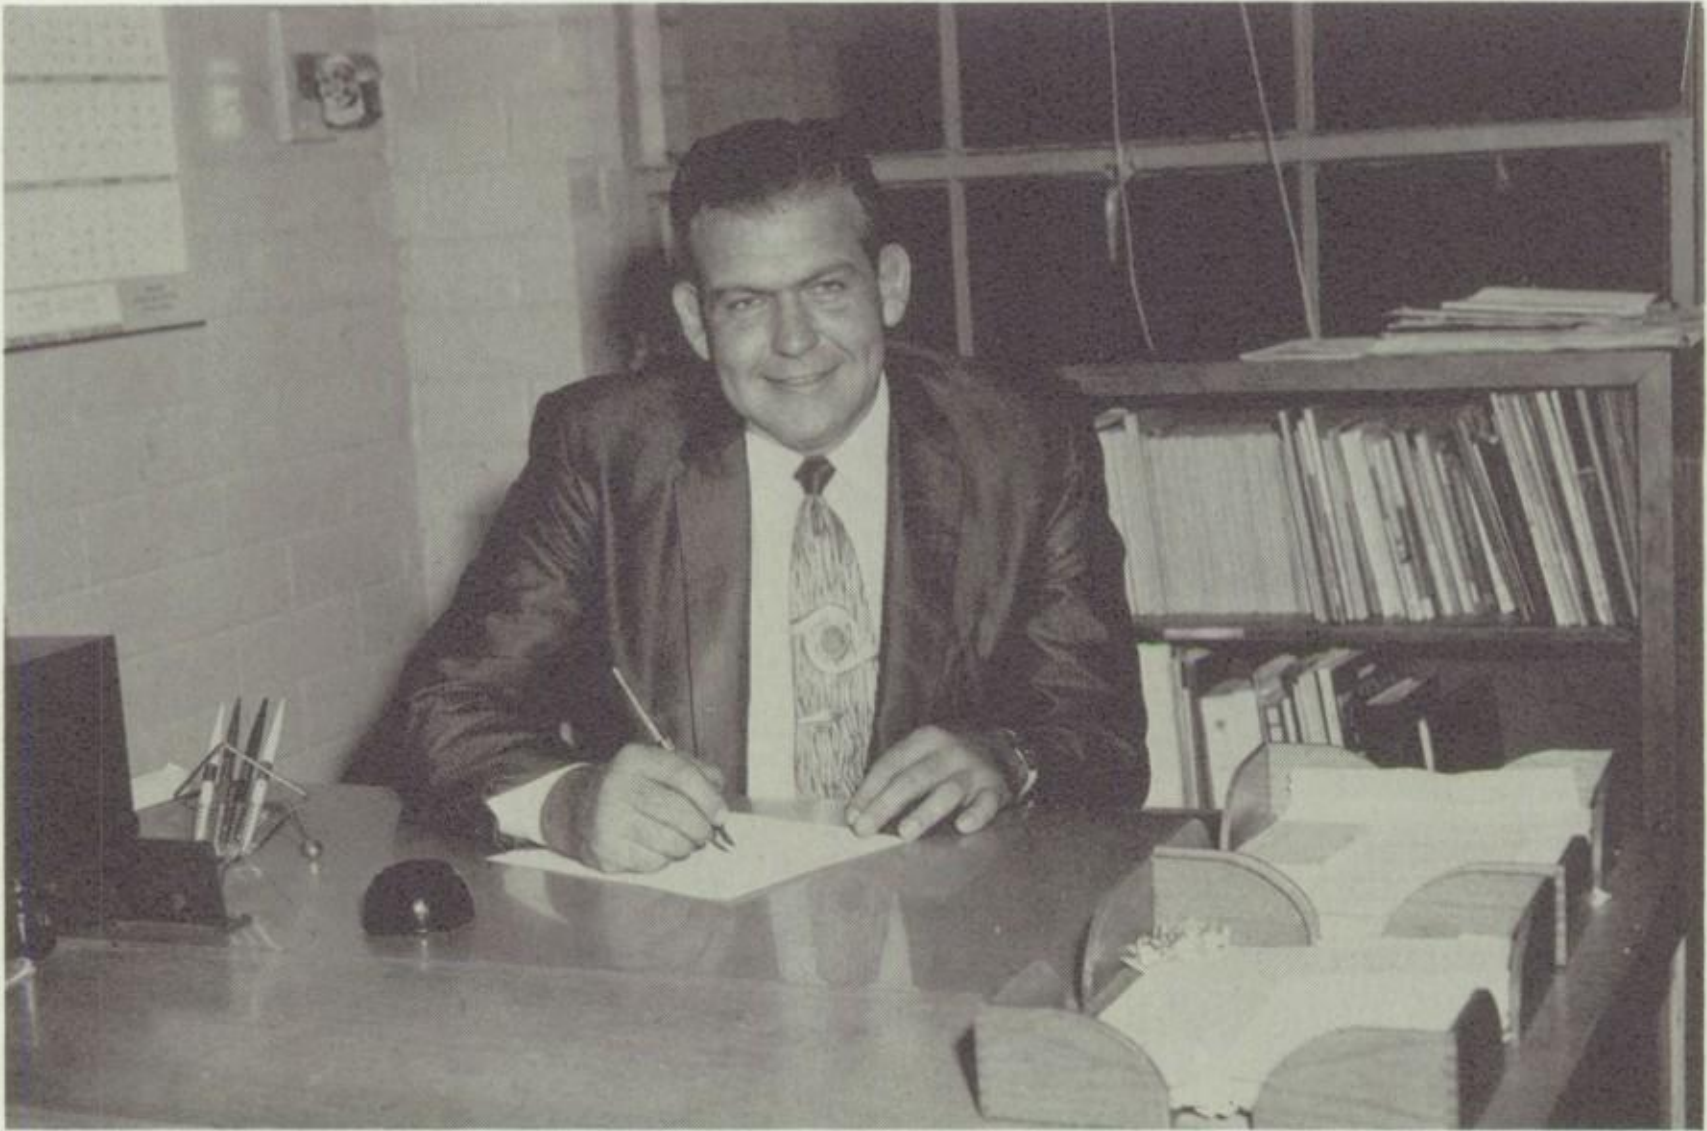

It is my hope that your days in the Kaufman Schools have been happy as well as fruitful. As you travel the "highways of life", never forget that the only security you can ever have is the security within yourself. Security, like happiness, can neither be bought nor given. Each of us has to earn his own. If you have not already done so, you should establish your goals in life. Try to decide now what you want most from life. And remember, those who merely chase "happiness" never catch up with it. Life has its sunshine and its shadows, its peaks and its valleys. Most great deeds are mainly mixtures of courage and hard work. Our Republic was built on individual freedom, individual opportunity, and individual responsibility. I hope you have learned these things.

Working with the fine student body, faculty, board members, and the people associated with the Kaufman Schools is a pleasure and a privilege. I will always be grateful to you for your contribution

Sincerely yours,

Jimmy Phillips

Jimmy Phillips
Superintendent

Congratulations to the annual staff for achieving their goals in the production of this annual.

Life is a venture. It is like a journey through a country one has never traversed before. Multitudes before you have made the journey and have set up many signposts along the way. Yet each traveler must gain for himself the innumerable and varied experiences that are necessary if he is to reach his destination.

Education is a valuable part of life's experiences. Here you become better prepared to enter new areas, to make new discoveries, and to bring about better adjustments.

There are certain basic laws and principles of life one should learn if he would avoid catastrophe. One cannot always follow his impulse or desires, but must constantly take into account the welfare of others along the way, as well as the good of those who will come after him. The greatest joy of life comes through helping your fellow man along the way. I sincerely hope that life's experiences here at Kaufman High School will help each of you chart the way to your destination.

If, when climbing life's ladder,
You can reach a hand below,
Just to help the other fellow up another rung or so,
It may be that in the future,
When you're growing weary, too,
You'll be glad to find there is someone
Who will lend a hand to you.

Sincerely,

W. B. McDowell

PROPHECY

The Starlight Nightclub, located on Second Avenue, an extension of Houston Street, and owned by Judy Casselberry and Douglas Whittenburg, was the scene of a reunion of the Seniors of '62 on May 22, 1972.

First to arrive for the memorable night were Bob Babovec, owner of the famous Flying-V Ranch, accompanied by his pretty wife, the former Etta Vacula, who flew in via Smith & Smith Airlines owned by Melvin and Mary.

The Smiths and airline hostess, Melvadean Bell, rushed to the party in a taxi driven by Joe Penn. The parking lot attendant, Benson Mitchell, expertly parked the car and followed the group into the club. A. B. Bankston, the neatly dressed doorman, led them to the hatcheck girl, Minnie Havlik.

Novelist, Gary Holcomb and his efficient secretary, Frankie Turner, amid great applause, entered with Bobby Stastny, chauffeur and mechanic for Gary's fleet of Cadillacs.

Dr. Kathy Ewing and technician Carolyn Trail were in attendance to receive awards in the field of science. Presenting the awards was none other than Linda Phillips, President of A. & M. College. Other awards went to Dolores Edwards as teacher of the year and Jeannette Stastny as Miss America of 1972.

The delicious dinner of Poulet Rochambeau was prepared by chief chef, Stanley Pratt, and served by Janice Greelee, Linda Dunson, and Linda Baldwin, waitresses.

Entertainment for the evening was a skit, "Lions Forever", provided by the Little Theater, of which Jeanne McCullough was Director. Artists in charge of scenes and scenery were Betty Nash and Peggy Voorhies. Fashion consultant, Marsha Payne, assisted by Judy High, provided the costumes for the show. Other phases of fun for the evening were the black-face comedian act by Billy Paul Hill, twirling by world champion Nita Trail, and songs by Mary Martin, pantomimed by Mary Sipriano.

Johnny Riddler, now in charge of the "Jolly" Farmer Program, proudly announced the organization of the Circle-E Ranch by the Ellis boys, Vernon and Bill. Managers for the ranch of the Angbra cattle, developed by Linda Percival, were Roy Ferrell and Jimmy Gibson. The advertising manager was Betty Butler.

The usual excitement for the Seniors of '62 was intensified by a bomb alert from civil defense supervisor, Jean Copeland. The party continued in the bomb shelter designed by Paula Clayton and Patsy Campbell. This shelter had been provided by the wealthy Patricia Lagow. Supplies of champagne, caviar, and water were provided by government inspectors Virginia David, Paul Thompson, Judy Patterson, and Marsha Riggs. Boy! What a party.
